

Evanston

The newly renovated Evanston Hospital Center for Breast Health is up and running. The new space opened July 11. It offers four mammography units with high-definition and tomography capabilities, two regular breast ultrasound units and two automated breast ultrasound units. Additionally, the space allows for private consultation areas so patients can meet with their radiologists. The Center now includes new space for surgeons to support enhanced collaboration through additional patient exam and procedure rooms.